Biographical History

Dr. Edward W. Wynne was an Arts & Science graduate of Loyola University New Orleans in 1939. According to his son, Michael D. Wynne, Dr. Wynne was the school's unofficial photographer during the late 1930s. After receiving his medical degree from LSU, Dr. Wynne went on to become a pediatrician in Lafayette and the surrounding area for 40 years. A prominent member of many philanthropic and medical societies, Dr. Wynne was also a veteran of the U.S. Army Medical Corps. The photographs in this collection were taken by Dr. Wynne during his junior and senior years at Loyola University. Dr. Wynne died in 1989.

Scope and Content

The Dr. Edward W. Wynne Collection consists of 68 negative strips bearing 1 to 6 negatives each. The photographs were taken on the campus of Loyola University New Orleans in 1938 and 1939. Activities documented by the images include: biology and medical laboratory work, football games, track and field practices, basketball games, Christmas on campus, religious events, fraternity hazing rituals, Homecoming events, campus buildings, graduation, and women on campus. Portions of the medical laboratory images are graphic in nature.

The remaining two items are business cards from past presidents of Loyola University New Orleans.

System of Arrangement

The negatives were retained and catalogued numerically in the order in which they were received. The images are neither in chronological order nor necessarily in subject order. The entire negative collection has been digitized and most of the images have been placed on the Louisiana Digital Library.

These negatives are retained in an archival binder within the collection box.
